Dear Mr. Smith,

I'm at the local chairman for The American Evergreen Boys State program in our area. You're name and email was provided by previous students from your school who participated. I was hoping there was a time I could talk with you a bit about the program and getting students from your school to participate. Ultimately, it would be great if there was a time I could come present some information about the program directly to young men who may be interested.

Is there a time that would be convenient for you that I could call you to talk further? Or if you aren't the best person at your school to help me, could you provide that contact information for me?

You may also want to check out the program's new website that has lots of information you might find useful. You can visit it at www.EvergreenBoysState.org.

Thanks so much for the help,

Bob Jones
